DESIGN & ARCHITECTURE

Designed by award winning architect Tan Hock Beng, founder of Singapore-based MAPS Design Studio and leading figure in modern tropical architecture and resort design, the exceptional structure of PRINCESS D'ÂN NAM Resort & Spa is a modern interpretation of French colonial-style fused with Oriental imagery. Dedicated to exploring new concepts of elegance and sensuality in hospitality design, Tan created a resort with a heightened sense of the tactile and the sensual. The Resort's generosity of space spells privacy and true luxury with large openings through gleaming white patterned walls that bring the ocean breeze and breathtaking view of sky and sand into the premise. The guest is at once intimately close to the elements of nature, while surrounded by sophisticated luxury redefined by infused modernity. The unique masonry foundations of the 57 villas imbue a sense of gravitas and history, balanced by roofs characterized by lightness and dignity. Ornate latticework and rubbed walls bring a dainty, quaint atmosphere to its panoramic resort setting.

Under the design direction of interior designer Vincent Koh, all 57 villas are lavished with furnishing in contemporary Vietnamese tropical style and embellished with richly patterned and finely crafted accessories and objects of traditional culture and modern refinement. Each villa becomes a private sanctuary as its walls shield guests amidst an outdoor bathroom and the pleasing sight and fragrance of a private garden designed by Alan W. Carle. Known for his award-winning landscape design such as the new Ginger Garden within the famed Singapore Botanic Gardens, Carle adds a magic touch to the landscaping of the entire resort with its collection of rare plants.
